In February 2018, the Orientation to Coaching & Natural Learning Environment Practices – Feedback Survey was sent to all local system managers (LSMs) in Virginia. A total of 36 respondents from all regions across the state provided feedback on the survey. Most respondents were LSMs (n=28, 80%). Other respondents included supervisors (n=11, 31%), peer mentors (n=3, 8%), and others (n=4, 11%), including a provider, interim LSM, service coordinator, and service coordinator/educator. Initial survey data indicated that many local systems are not yet using the Orientation to Coaching and Natural Learning Environment Practices process. Reasons included no new staff being hired or already having a similar process in place. Of the 23 respondents who were not using it the Orientation process, 16 indicated plans to use it with new staff in the future. Of the 10-12 respondents who provided feedback about the use of the process, feedback suggested that they were in different stages of completing the process. Some were embedding the process in a pre-existing orientation at the local level, while others were implementing it as a new process. Overall ratings of the components of the process were high. Scheduling the four meetings recommended in the process were challenging for some respondents and less so for others. Eight out of ten respondents agreed/strongly agreed that the process was valuable.
